

Data protection policy

This policy details how Imperial manages personal data collected on their website (<https://imperialagency.co>). Personal data is handled and stored with the highest level of security to ensure user data is protected.

Handling of personal data Personal data collected on our website may include: name, email address, phone number. Data is collected and handled to the extent necessary for using the website. Data is not shared with third parties.

Data security

Imperial ensures the security of personal data through the application of the latest security standards. Data is stored in encrypted form and access is granted only to authorized individuals.

Duration of data handling Personal data is handled for the duration necessary for using the website, then deleted in a secure manner.

User rights

Users can view, modify or delete their personal data at any time. Upon request, Imperial will delete the personal data.

Changes

Imperial is entitled to modify this data protection policy at any time and will publish the changes on their website. Users are informed of changes to the data protection policy through messages sent to their e-mail address or through updates on the website. By continuing to use the website after changes to data handling rules take effect, users approve of the changes.

Calendar

Our website's calendar feature allows us to collect the following data from users: name, event date and time, event location, event description. Data is handled confidentially and only shared with third parties with user consent. Users can revoke their consent at any time and request that their data be deleted.

Please let us know if you have any questions about Privacy Policies!